

THE AFRO-ROMANCE INSTITUTE AND THE DEPARTMENT OF ROMANCE LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES PRESENT:

DR. JEROME BRANCHE

University of Pittsburgh

Professor of Latin American Literature and Cultural Studies

Department of Hispanic
Languages and Literatures

Dr. Branche will speak about:

“De-reading the Map, Engaging the Territory:
A Wynterian Reading of Zapata Olivella’s
Changó el gran putas.”

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4, 2015

4:00 - 5:00 PM

Room 113 Arts & Sciences

*There will be a reception immediately following the event,
open to the public.*

Sponsored by: the Afro-Romance Institute and the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures