A note from the Chair.....

Dear Colleagues:

Our busy department requires this supplemental Bulletin.

First, let me share some wonderful news. We congratulate Professors Erick Blandón, Mónica Marcos Llinas, and Guadalupe Pérez Anzaldo, each of whom has just received an Arts and Science Faculty Fellowship for extraordinary achievement. The Dean of the College of Arts and Science grants this award to honor scholarly contributions that enhance the reputation of both the University and the department of the recipient.

Please notice our revised section of calendar items.

The Afro-Romance Institute will sponsor a lecture by renowned scholar Landry-Wilfrid Miampika from the University of Alcalá (Madrid, SPAIN).

Remember to attend the concert by Catalan singer and song writer Pau Alabajos on December 1. Consider this an appetizer for the Catalan Symposium that the Department will sponsor in April of 2015.

One of our newest faculty members Professor Luis Cuesta (PhD University of California, Los Angeles) will deliver the final lecture of our Seminar Series on December 5, 2014.

Warmest wishes to all,

Charles Presberg

Kudos...

Arts and Science Faculty Fellowship Award: Erick Blandón, Associate Professor of Spanish; Mónica Marcos Llinas, Associate Teaching Professor of Spanish; Guadalupe Pérez Anzaldo, Assistant Professor of Spanish.

Please share all your good news. Send Brenda Klemme (klemmeb@missouri.edu) or me (presbergc@missouri.edu) any items you wish to appear in our Bulletin by the second and the fourth Tuesday of every month. And please include relevant contact information so that readers can send their inquiries about events and their congratulations for achievements.
